SAN FRANCISCO EXPOSITION TO HAVE ICE RINK

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—An atmosphere of confidence has taken the place of former uncertainty and pervades the tenth floor of the Merchants' Exchange building, on which the offices of the Panama-Pacific Exposition are located. The committees in charge feel assured that the great exposition to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal will be held in San Francisco in 1915, and the committees are busy receiving subscriptions, which come from all sections of California. While the amounts are small they represent residents of almost every part and section of the state.

What engages the attention of the committees in charge, outside of the subscriptions, to make the requisite amount, $7,500,000, complete, are numerous plans for exceptional attractions, including the best features of former expositions held in different parts of the world, and novel ideas and suggestions, of which any number are submitted daily by persons of experience in that line.

The Chinese residents are making inquiries concerning an Oriental city, arranged in all the splendor of a veritable fairyland, in which are to be exhibited the choicest art treasures from the Celestial empire, arranged amid surroundings unequalled before in any foreign country. The Chinese are confident that the Oriental city will form one of the greatest attractions ever offered at any exposition.

Natives of the frigid North urge that an artificial lake, covered with ice, be made a feature of the exposition. Their theory for such an ice-covered lake for skating and sleighing is quite feasible, and is sure to attract innumerable patrons from among residents and visitors, persons who have enjoyed the pleasures of a Northern winter and others to whom the sport will be novel. They refer to the great success of the ice carnival on Lake Montreal, and are certain that it can be successfully reproduced in the mild summer temperature of San Francisco, where it will be even more attractive than in a frigid climate. They also claim that an ice-covered lake on the exposition grounds would be an inducement to bring the world's champion skaters to San Francisco during the exposition, to hold their championship contests.
